INDIE PRESS

GODSPEED
BY NICKOLAS BUTLER
FICTION

Faber & Faber £14.99
Friends Bart, Teddy, and Cole own a construction company in Wyoming. When a big time lawyer with even bigger pockets hires them to build her dream house, the impossible task soon creates tension. Brutal, moving, and heartfelt.

THE YIELD
BY TARA JUNE WINCH
FICTION

Harcollins £8.99
Returning to Australia for her grandfather's funeral, August learns that her family's ancestral home is on the brink of repossession by a mining corporation. Winch's lyrical narrative weaves together aboriginal stories and voices from the land itself in a celebration of language and storytelling.

THE GIANT DARK
BY SARVAT HASIN
FICTION

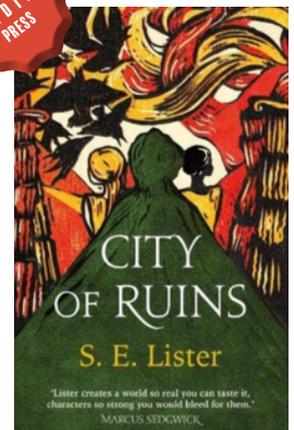

Little, Brown £16.99
Aida is the most celebrated rock star of her age. When she vanishes from the public eye to resume a turbulent love affair, her loyal fanbase seek the truth. A heady, mesmerising tale of fame and the dangers of mythologising artists, muses, and lovers.

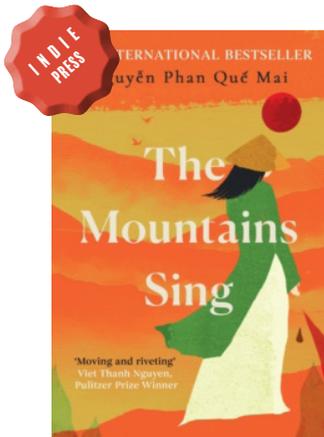

CITY OF RUINS
BY S.E. LISTER
FICTION

Old Street Publishing £8.99
In an unnamed ancient city, the earth starts to tremble. The High Priest insists the gods' favour can be bought with gold and ritual sacrifice, but only the Augur, a fearless and ageless prophetess can see what awaits them.

THE MR B'S BOOKSELLER'S DOZEN

INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER
 Nguyễn Phan Quế Mai
THE MOUNTAINS SING
 BY NGUYEN PHAN QUE MAI
 FICTION

Oneworld £8.99
 This beautiful family saga charts the turbulent history of Vietnam in the 20th Century. Perfect for fans of 'Pachinko', this novel is an exploration of the strength that can be found in family, customs, and belief in the face of cruelty and destruction.

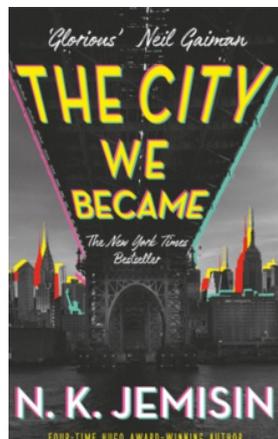

A BBC RADIO 2 BOOK CLUB PICK
 "Life-affirming and funny"
 GOOD HOUSEKEEPING
THREE WOMEN AND A BOAT
 Anne Youngson
 "A meander down England's waterways. Bittersweet and charming."
 MAIL ON SUNDAY

Transworld £8.99
 Meet Eve, Sally, and Anastasia: three very different women whose lives converge by chance as each of them seek out a change of pace. The story of their journey together on a narrow-boat across England makes for a slow, reflective, gentle read, perfect for a summer afternoon.

THE CITY WE BECAME
 BY N.K. JEMISIN
 FICTION

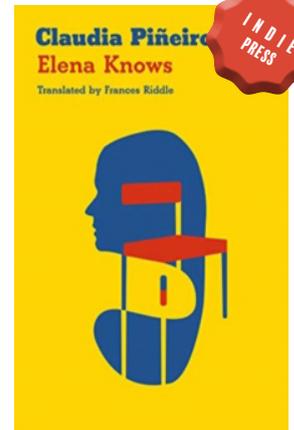

Little, Brown £8.99
 Like many cities before it, NYC is dying a soul death, so it calls on the five boroughs to save it - quite literally. Bronca, Brooklyn, Queens, Manny and Aislyn have to work together to save the city they love. A wild ride.

'Glorious' Neil Gaiman
THE CITY WE BECAME
 The New York Times Bestseller
 N. K. JEMISIN
 FORTY-TIME HUGO AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

ELENA KNOWS
 BY CLAUDIA PINEIRO
 FICTION

Charco £9.99
 When her daughter is found hanged in a bell tower, Elena travels to Buenos Aires to investigate the alleged suicide. Under the increasingly aggressive symptoms of Parkinson's disease, Elena's search for the truth is a torturous exploration of motherhood, dependence, and illness.

Claudia Piñeiro
Elena Knows
 Translated by Frances Riddle

BUILD YOUR HOUSE AROUND MY BONES
 BY VIOLET KUPER-SMITH
 FICTION

Oneworld £16.99
 When two women go missing decades apart, their lives are inescapably bound together by past generations, vengeful spirits and a haunted landscape. Spanning more than fifty years of Vietnamese history and folklore, this is a truly astonishing debut, but not for the faint-hearted!

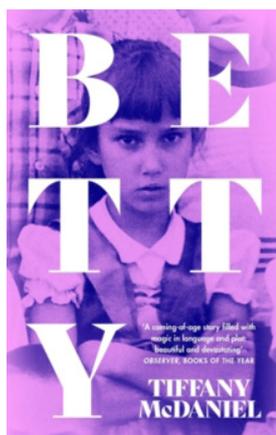

THE COWARD
 BY JARRED MCGINNIS
 FICTION

Canongate £16.99
 A lifechanging car accident, drug addiction and shoplifting; 'The Coward' is a piece of autofiction which is at once heart breaking and explosive. McGinnis' characters are astonishingly three dimensional, and the dialogue between them is so palpable you feel almost voyeuristic.

BETTY
 BY TIFFANY MCDANIEL
 FICTION

Orion £8.99
 Born in 1954 to a Cherokee father and a white mother, Betty is one of eight siblings. Her curiosity for the natural world, a fierce love for her sisters and her father's stories all help her escape a world of poverty and violence.

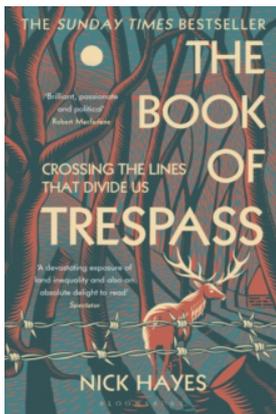

A TOUCH OF MISTLETOE
 BY BARBARA COMYNS
 FICTION

Daunt Books £9.99
 Comyns always nails her eccentric characters and unsettling narratives, and 'A Touch of Mistletoe' is no exception. We follow Sisters Victoria and Blanche, who lead precarious and unusual lives, from a secluded Warwickshire upbringing to enduring extreme poverty. A funny and dark coming of age story.

BARBARA COMYNS
A TOUCH OF MISTLETOE

THE MR B'S BOOKSELLER'S DOZEN

THE BOOK OF TRESPASS BY NICK HAYES NATURE

Bloomsbury £8.99

By law of trespass, 92% of our country's wildlife is blocked from public access. Nick Hayes takes us on a journey through the land of the media magnates, Lords, politicians, and private corporations that own England, changing the way we see ownership and our landscape.

BLACK TEACHER BY BERYL GILROY BIOGRAPHY

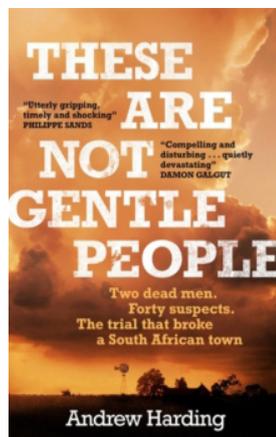

Faber & Faber £12.99

First published in 1976, Beryl Gilroy's experience of prejudice as the first black headteacher in London is an unflinching account of endemic bigotry and a vivid life built in opposition to it. This is a timely republication that gives due credit to the power of meaningful teaching.

THESE ARE NOT GENTLE PEOPLE BY ANDREW HARDING HISTORY

Quercus £9.99

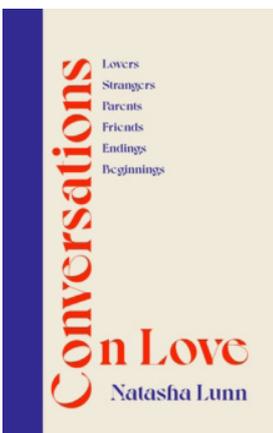

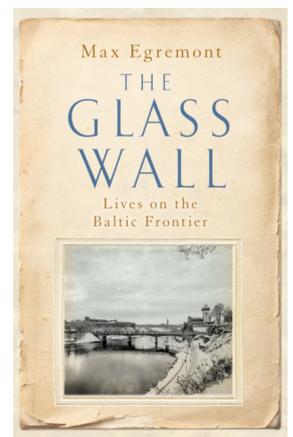

Taking place over one infamous evening in 2016, a group of forty men (some attackers, some bystanders) murdered two young black men. Foreign Correspondent Harding explores South Africa's fraught race relations and flawed justice system through the true events of this brutal double homicide.

THE GLASS WALL BY MAX EGREMONT HISTORY

Pan Macmillan £25

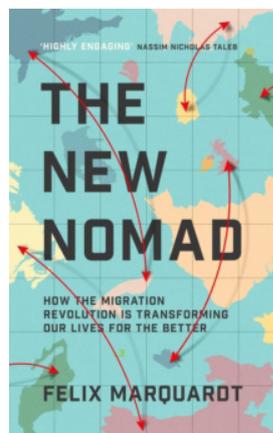

Egremont returns with another masterfully crafted history of the Baltic nations caught between the titans of Germany and Russia. Interlacing narrative, cultural, and social history with his often poetic observational anecdotes, he stands beside Alexievich and Daniel James Brown as a historian for the ages.

CONVERSATIONS ON LOVE BY NATASHA LUNN PSYCHOLOGY

Penguin £14.99

In a bid to understand how relationships are formed and sustained over our lifetime, Natasha Lunn went directly to the experts. This refreshing collection of essays from a diverse range of contributors explore love in all its forms, from romantic relationships to families and friendships.

THE NEW NOMAD BY FELIX MARQUARDT EQUALITY/INCLUSIVITY

Simon & Schuster £20

As a New Nomad himself, Felix Marquardt is well positioned to challenge the negative stereotypes associated with migration. He argues that it is globally beneficial that individuals everywhere become empowered to relocate to where their skills are needed and valued.

THREE LITTLE VIKINGS BY BETHAN WOOLLVIN PICTURE BOOK 3+

Pan Macmillan £7.99

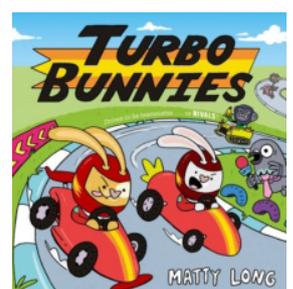

A charming new picture book about three strong and independent young viking girls who take it upon themselves to fix all the things going wrong in their village, as the silly chieftain won't listen to them. Read this tale for cooperation, bravery, and finding your voice.

TURBO BUNNIES BY MATTY LONG PICTURE BOOK 2+

Oxford University Press £6.99

The Turbo Bunnies, a forever team, have suddenly become rivals on the racing track - they'll have to mend their fences if they want to avoid a crash! A wonderfully laugh-out-loud picture book about the power of friendship and teamwork.
